

PBI 2020 Annual Conference

PBI Board Notice

Given the evolving recent developments regarding the Coronavirus (COVID-19) situation, PBI's Board of Directors has approved the postponement of PBI's 2020 Annual Conference that was previously scheduled for March 17–19 at the Gaylord National Resort.

To all our registered attendees, we want to thank you for your patience as we monitored the fluid COVID-19 outbreak in order to make the best decision for people. We also appreciate the understanding of all of our speakers, sponsors, EXPO table hosts, and other partners.

PBI's constituency – professionals in law firms, legal departments and public interest organizations – are committed to providing pro bono services to underserved people and communities. We know that the opportunity to interact with, learn from, and be inspired by colleagues in order to more effectively provide pro bono is critical, and we are disappointed to not be able to provide you with that forum this March. However, your health and ultimately that of all of our families, colleagues, and communities is paramount.

We have a lot of work to do to untangle and renegotiate all the commitments relating to PBI's Annual Conference. We appreciate your patience in advance as we work through these issues. We will be back in touch in the coming weeks with an update on next steps regarding your individual registrations as well as future programming. In the meantime, please remember to cancel any travel arrangements you have made, such as hotels and airline reservations.

We care about your health and well-being, and thank you very much for your flexibility and all you do to serve others.

Kindest regards,

James W. Jones
